

Hotel Reine Victoria: Exhibition with works by the painter Eugenia A. Burgo “Blooming Tales”

One look is enough! The works of Eugenia A. Burgo immediately capture the viewer and immerse them in a unique world of colors and shapes. The artist focuses on small, delicate details from nature and zooms them into loud and bold statements in her paintings. These are details from the botanical world, of stones or of creatures from the depths of the sea. The intense colors, the suggestive erotic forms and the play of light and shadow have a seductive effect. The pictures arouse longing. The exaggerated realism transports us to a fairytale world that is at odds with the often disturbing images we encounter in the media every day.

From January 5, 2025, Eugenia A. Burgo will be showing her latest works in the “Blooming Tales” exhibition in the public areas of the Hotel Reine Victoria in St. Moritz. The rooms themselves are a place of seduction, from another time, full of beauty and sensuality. She has created a new series especially for this location that is wild and dramatic, yet mysterious and playful.

The Swiss/American artist Eugenia A. Burgo was born in Zurich. She graduated from Wheaton Collage in Boston, USA with a BA in Art and studied Art History at the University of Zurich. She completed an S.A.C.I. program in oil painting and printmaking at the Art Institute of Cleveland in Florence. Her work is sometimes inspired by the works of Georgia O’Keeffe and Luzia Simons.

Eugenia A. Burgo lives and works as a painter in Ardez and Zurich. As a hobby gardener, she feels a strong connection to nature, which gives her the strength and also the motifs for her work. This naturalness is also reflected in the medium of oil on canvas, to which she has always remained faithful. She has already presented her touching work to a wide audience in numerous exhibitions in various European countries, Japan, the United States and the Arab world.
